the articles arrive at.....

I further agree not to countermand this order, and should the trees be delayed en route and not arrive on the day as per notice, and should arrive within ten days afterward, I will take them as though they had arrived on the day of notification. If I do not take the trees and plants the day notified to do so, I agree that they may be delivered at my residence at my expense; that I will be responsible for all damages which may occur to the trees and plants after the day I am notified to receive them.

I further state that I have examined this contract and find the number and size of each variety is given correctly, as per my desires; that all credits due me are placed upon this contract; that I have made no trade, either verbal or written, with the agent that is not stated on this order.

All trees and plants that die first year after planting will be replaced at one-half price, except wholesale orders of five hundred or more trees.
